Steps to Reproduce:	1. From admin account click add resort
	2. Enter resort details and click cancel o This should return you to the home admin screen and not save any of the entered data 3. Click add resort button again
	   o Observe that the previously entered emergency information and season settings from the cancelled resort is present in the new resort page (See attached photos) 4. Logout and back in o Observe that the problem did not persist if the admin logged completely out of the app and logged back in Expected Result:	No previously unsaved information should remain after cancelling a resort addition. The create resort screen fields should be free of information when opened.

Actual Result:	After a resort has been cancelled the emergency information is being retained by the emergency fields and carried over the next time a resort is created. When the admin logged out and logged back in the information disappeared.
